Dean's Message

Boyd Jones
CFAGO Dean

Dear CFAGO Friends,

As we come to the conclusion of Advent 2024, and enter the Christmas season, please know of the support and encouragement coming your way from your Central Florida American Guild of Organists Officers and Board Members. We are now thinking about the planning of coming seasons of programs, and solicit your help and input regarding future events. This goes beyond just suggesting a favorite organist for a recital. We need to think creatively about programs and events that will attract members, and others, and will genuinely help people in church music positions in our area. Feel free to communicate any ideas to me, or to any of the officers or Board members. We will be meeting again soon, via Zoom, to begin discussion of coming events. Now is the time to express your creative thoughts, for the benefit of all in the CFAGO.

We all send you our best wishes as you begin the 2025 calendar year. Let us try to support each other in all ways, and let us remember our gratitude for the privilege of serving as musicians and musical leaders in our communities. Thanks for your ongoing support of the Guild and its work.

Boyd Jones

Job Opening

Holy Trinity is an Episcopal Church in the evangelical tradition located in Melbourne, Florida—a beach town on the outskirts of Orlando. As the oldest established church in the city, Holy Trinity still functions as a centerpiece of Melbourne. It is a program-sized parish, boasting multiple clergy, significant staff, and a large private school.

The parish is in search of an organist and choirmaster suited to minister in worship. The parish is in a new season of rapid growth, which the ideal candidate will see not only as an opportunity for the growth and revitalization of its choral program but also for discipleship.

To learn more about this opportunity, please see our Jobs Board linked below!
